Congressman Billy Long biography

Congressman Billy Long was sworn in on January 5, 2012, to serve his first term as a United States Congressman representing the Seventh District of Missouri. For over thirty years, Congressman Long was a real estate broker and owner of Billy Long Auctions, LLC in Springfield, MO, along with being a radio talk show host from 1999-2006 on KWTO AM560. His experience running a small business and his time taking calls on the radio from concerned citizens gives him a unique understanding of the challenges facing families and small businesses in the Ozarks.

As a member of the House Committee on Homeland Security, he fights to protect the American people from terror threats abroad, strengthen our borders at home, and keeping America's infrastructure safe from terrorist threats. On the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, he works to keep America's roads, rails, and runways safe for commuters as traffic and infrastructure continue to increase. Missouri ranks seventh in the number of highway miles in the country.

In addition to his small-business ownership, Long was a member of the National Association of Realtors, National Auctioneers Association, and the Missouri Professional Auctioneers' Association for over 30 years each. Long has been inducted into the Missouri Professional Auctioneers' Hall of Fame. Long also holds memberships in the National Rifle Association and the Springfield Area Chamber of Commerce.

Billy and his wife Barbara were married in 1984 at First & Cavalry Presbyterian Church, of which they are still members and attend regularly.
